

To many people, activity is not just about being fit. It's about doing something they love. We salute this as true wellness. That's why we've negotiated with the best partners to keep you doing what you're passionate about. Entrytime is an easy way to enter your favourite races. Plus you get an Active Day for every event entered.

How do I get it?

How to get it:

Register with Entrytime.
Login at Entrytime and click on 'Submit new claim' to get your Active Day.
If you complete a race that is not registered with Entrytime, don't worry. You can add your race event to the existing list of Entrytime races. This option can be found under the 'submit new claim' button.

Using the benefit:

To get your Active Day, you need to complete the event within the allowed time limit.
This benefit is open only to the main member and partner on the Multiply contract.
Each member must register their own individual profile at Entrytime.
Your Active Dayz™ will be forfeited if you do not claim them on Entrytime within four months of successfully completing an event.

Standard Entrytime Ts & Cs apply.
